

FORESTRY LOSSES DETAILED BY PACK

Tells of Waste Through Fire and Idle Land at Annual Meeting.

The American Forestry Association at its annual meeting at the Willard Hotel today marked the fortieth year of its organization. The association was founded in Cincinnati in 1882 with George E. Loring of Salem, Mass., as the first president. Charles Lathrop Pack of Lakewood, N. J., the president, made the opening address and was followed by Senator Irvine L. Tamm of Wisconsin, who spoke on "Our National Forest Problems," and by Col. Henry S. Graves, former chief of the U. S. forest service, who spoke on "The Objectives of a National Forest Policy."

"Let us mark this year, 1922, a vital year in forestry in the United States, with a united front for a forest policy," said Mr. Pack. Thanks to the fine co-operation of the editors of the country the American Forestry Association has awakened thousands of people to the value of our forest resources.

"Future prosperity of the country is threatened by two big items, our forests and our forests. For one, the loss of millions of acres of forest lands which are not growing forests. Just what this means to the country is shown in New York and New England is shown in the $2,000,000-a-year freight bill New England pays to import lumber because of the idle acres close to her factory doors. The lumber cut in the state of New York in 1920, the most recent year for which figures are available, was $66,000,000 a year for imported lumber, and $11,000,000 a year for state-grown lumber. As a result nearly 1,500 wood-using industries in the state of New York have closed up shop."

Fire Loss Enormous.

"Material enough to build a five-room house every hundred feet on both sides of a road extending from New York to Chicago, is destroyed by forest fires every year. With four thousand or more buildings would provide a home for nearly one-fourth of our yearly increase in population. In the last five years more than 160,000 forest fires have occurred in the United States, 30 per cent of which were due to human agencies, and therefore preventable. These conflagrations destroyed $55,700,000 worth of timber."

"Stop this waste and put that material into houses. If you do, various business interests concerned in construction, such as lumber dealers, carpenters, masons and supply houses, would, it is estimated, benefit to the extent of more than $400,000,000 an year. Bankers and real estate dealers would also profit by the sale of lands and loans on homes to the extent of an additional $400,000,000. Take that thought home with you and present it to your banker and the real estate man."

Will Speak at Smoker.

At the University Club tonight there will be smoker, at which the following will give short talks:

Col. William B. Grady, chief of the United States Forest Service; Ovid M. Butler, forester of the American Forestry Association and formerly of the United States products laboratory at Madison; Nelson Brown of Syracuse, J. W. Toumey of the Yale Forest School; Henry C. Campbell of the Michigan Journal; Dean C. H. Worcester of Chicago; Carl Vrooman, a former assistant secretary of agriculture; Dean of the University of California; Dr. Henry S. Drinker, E. T. Allen, Western Forestry and Conservation Association, and Herman von Schrenk of St. Louis.

PROBING FOR ALLEGED FRAUD UP IN MILLIONS

Returns of 3,000 New York Fur Dealers Being Checked by Gov ernment Officials.

Tax returns of some 3,000 New York fur dealers are being checked up in connection with accusations that the government has been defrauded of millions of dollars. Elmer L. Irey, chief of the intelligence section of the Internal Revenue Bureau, said today on his return from New York, where the intelligence section Tuesday caused the arrest of Morris Rosenberg, a fur dealer, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government.

Accusations are pending. Mr. Irey said, against a number of fur manu facturers. Rosenberg is charged with internal revenue evasion and with passing on to his associates receipts for monthly taxes to fur manufacturers of which a part was rebated so that the government got nothing at all. The fur tax, he said, was 10 per cent and the taxes on the fur dealers ranged from a few hundred dollars to a maximum of $5,000 a month.

FLAYS U. S. CROP REPORTS

Representative Overstreet Calls for Inquiry by Congress.

Investigation by the House investi gating committee of the crop-report ing bureau of the Department of Agriculture with a view to "discovering the cause of and instituting remedies for the inaccuracies shown

In the reports of 1921 cotton crop" published by the department, is called for in a resolution introduced Friday by Representative Overstreet, democrat, Georgia.

"Mr. Overstreet declared that the reports of the Department of Agri culture indicated 'inefficient work on the part of those charged with esti mating the crops.' Estimates given out by the department, he contended, have 'proved misleading and injuri ous to cotton producers, cotton manu facturers and the entire trade.'

MAY CUT ARMY EXPENSE

Camp Changes Proposed by Wad sworth Netting $50,000,000.

A reduction of $50,000,000 in Army appropriations, through decreased over head expenses in connection with main tenance of Army camps, was suggested to President Harding yesterday by Sen ator Wadsworth, republican, New York.
On leaving the White House Senator Wadsworth said he expected some ac tion to be taken shortly by the Senate in line with his suggestion. The War Department, he said, is at present un able to sell or lease many of the camp sites, or to demolish the buildings, be cause it does not have clear title. Usually the costly title comes from the holding by private owners of small por tions of an acre or less within the reservation. The New York senator said, and this could be corrected by the government purchasing all such tracts. He estimated it would require the expenditure of not more than $4-$5,000,000.
